

RE: Victor E. Burger
Burger & Company

April 24th, 2023

To Whom It May Concern,

I was referred to Burger & Company Industrial Real Estate Brokers when Acument Global Technologies was looking at expanding its tooling department, and needed to find another building near our current location.

After reviewing current listings that failed to meet our needs, Victor Burger located an ideal building less than a half mile from our existing manufacturing location that was not even listed on the market for sale.

As a multinational company with management located in different countries, Victor promptness in returning phone calls and emails was a huge benefit in both assisting me in getting the necessary answers to our ownership and also leading to a successful purchase of an exceptional building that that meet our needs.

I would strongly recommend working with Victor and the other professionals at Burger & Company for whatever your Industrial needs may be.
