Burger and Company
VIA EMAIL

Dear Paul:

I'm writing to express my appreciation for your help in getting our vacancy filled at 5M.

In the past five years since you helped us purchase the property, I've reached out to you on countless occasions for your advice and assistance and you've never let me down. You've given me insights I'd have never thought of as well as professional opinions that are not only thorough and accurate but also readily accepted as fact in the real estate community. On top of that you've made it difficult to repay you for your valuable resources, instead only asking for future consideration if an opportunity should arise.

I've also seen many notices of Burger's successes in emails and on social media and secretly hoped to myself that I might be on the receiving end on one of those successes when the time comes.

Well, we checked two boxes on this one: 1) you made me one of your success stories by leasing my empty space very quickly and at a rate that exceeded my expectations and 2) I finally get to compensate you for your efforts.

It's honestly a pleasure working with you and your team, Paul, and I look forward to being a Burger success story again in the future (now if I could just get an invite for some of that pasta sauce...☺).

Sincerely,
